Our Value Proposal

Maxxam operates the leading private DNA testing laboratory in Canada. Our goal is to make expert DNA testing available quickly and efficiently to those that need it. We provide information that our clients seek when they are making decisions about issues that are often complicated and very personal.

DNA testing is an accurate and powerful technology for determining genetic relationships. Maxxam offers a variety of DNA tests including:

- Father (paternity)
- Mother (maternity)
- Brother/Sister
- Identical/Fraternal Twins
- Aunt/Uncle & Niece/Nephew
- Grandparents
- Male lineage

Legal vs. Curiosity DNA Tests

DNA samples are collected by rubbing a soft swab along the inside of the cheek – a process that is gentle enough for newborns. Each test can be conducted for curiosity or following legal protocols (when it is likely that the results will be used in Family Court or other legal or official proceedings).

For both Legal and Curiosity tests, samples are sent to our laboratory for analysis. Confidential results are sent to the client(s) and/or their representatives by email, mail or fax in 3 to 5 business days (for standard tests). We can analyse non-standard samples (e.g. personal use items) if a cheek swab is not available.

Legal DNA Tests: To ensure results are legally defensible, our Legal DNA testing procedures include:

- Third-party verification of each person's identity prior to qualified, experienced sample collection by that party
- Monitoring the custody of the samples from collection through analysis
- When a decision is made to proceed with a Legal test, contact information is collected for each person being tested so sample collection appointments can be scheduled (often within 24 hours).

Paternity and Relatedness Testing

Curiosity DNA Tests: A DNA sample collection kit for each person being tested will be mailed to the location specified by the client. The results will be analysed using the same people and instruments as in a Legal test. However, the identities of the people being tested are not third-party verified and the samples are not tracked prior to arriving at Maxxam. Therefore, the results of a Curiosity test are intended for personal use only.
